ANNEX

In this section the results of the FiBL Survey 2008 are presented in full detail (except the results on certified wild collection, which are in the continent chapters). Should you notice errors please send the correct data to helga.willer@fibl.org; we will make these available at www.organic-world.net and in the 2009 edition of "The World of Organic Agriculture."

Table 39: Organic land use by country 2006

Please note: In some cases, the added up land use data resulted in a higher figure than the figure provided for the total organic area. This discrepancy is probably due to the fact that some of the organic land is used for two main crops. In such cases, minus values were added.
