

ORGANIC EPRINTS - HELPING SCIENCE GO TO WORK

Ilse A. Rasmussen<sup>1</sup>, Allan L. Jensen<sup>2</sup>, Helga Willer<sup>3</sup>

<sup>1</sup> International Centre for Research in Organic Food Systems (ICROFS), AU, Denmark, <sup>2</sup> Dept. of Engineering, Aarhus University, Denmark, <sup>3</sup>Dept. of Extension, Training & Communication, Research Institute of Organic Agriculture (FiBL), Frick, Switzerland

Aim

- Facilitate communication about organic research
- Improve dissemination and impact of organic research findings
- Document organic research efforts

Many different types of publications

Target groups

Users' benefits

- Free of charge
- Open access
- Direct download (no need to register)
- Access to more than 28,000 publications
- Get e-mail alerts on your favourite topics

Authors' benefits

- Secure permanent link
- Better dissemination
- More citations
- Quick and easy linking to all your articles
- Visibility in the organic community

Organic eprints

[www: Orgprints.org](http://www: Orgprints.org)
 - an international open access archive for organic research
 National editors in 26 countries

Organic Eprints world wide

Downloads from around the world

Number of each type of publication in Organic Eprints

